Dear Dr Ackar,

I hope this email finds you well.

I am contacting you on behalf of Greenscent, the EU's Smart Citizen Education platform for a greener future. We are recruiting students for the innovation challenge "Farm to Fork".

Greenscent is looking for new ideas and solutions on how food is produced, distributed, and enjoyed across Europe for a more sustainable food supply chain, healthier consumption habits, and reduced food waste.

The challenge is open to all students enrolled in a European post-secondary institution or who have graduated less than 2 years before the current academic year.

To participate, for now, the students only need to:

- create an account from this link (<https://bit.ly/3TPfHg5>); and
- create a new or join an existing team on the platform by 17th March 2024.

After that, the most compelling ideas will be selected. The students will be supported by Greenscent to develop their projects and will be invited to pitch them to a jury of executives at a final event in Brussels.

Benefits for the selected participants include:

- 1) A paid trip to Brussels, covering travel, catering, and hotel expenses
- 2) Receiving mentorship for project development
- 3) Being considered for potential internship opportunities
- 4) Networking with industry executives

I was wondering if you could help us by promoting the competition to your students? We would love to have participants from the Faculty of Food Technology Osijek.

I remain available if you have any questions. Thanks very much in advance for your kind support.

Best regards,
Fabio
